

Happy Earth Day, April 22nd!

'This Earth Day is another opportunity to think about the dynamic role that our producers play in the stewardship of the land.'

In the face of 21st century challenges, like feeding a growing population while managing limited natural resources, our producers continue to provide safe, reliable, and plentiful bounty with the help of science.'

VIRTUAL
ROUNDTABLE

'Becoming the Employer of Choice'

MONDAY, MAY 1ST @ 11:30AM CENTRAL

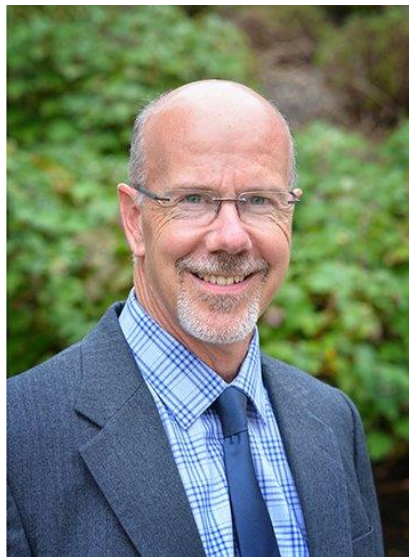

All Mentors, Journey Graziers, Apprentices & Apprentice Candidates & Interns are welcome to attend!

At this month's DGA webinar we will discuss creating a positive work environment and retaining skilled employees require sound employment practices that reflect an understanding of employee views and experiences. On a farm, workplace culture plays a significant role in shaping employee experiences. It represents the way things get done and can either be positive or present challenges for employees.

As a farm leader, it is essential to recognize that no two farm cultures are alike, and the people that make up the farm team are unique. To help you become the employer of choice, the University of Wisconsin Extension offers an exciting new course called "Becoming the Employer of Choice," which focuses on the foundational importance of farm workplace culture.

Join us on our monthly webinar to learn how to develop sound employment practices geared toward attracting, training, retaining, and rewarding employees. With this webinar, you will gain a deeper understanding of the role of farm culture in creating a positive work environment and retaining skilled employees.

Don't miss this opportunity to create a positive workplace culture and become the employer of choice. See you at the "Becoming the Employer of Choice" webinar!
